

Good Health Doubles the Value of Your Services

A half sick man is not worth half pay. A man or woman in poor health makes a poor leader, a poor sort of a parent.

The value of Peruna in the home can scarcely be estimated. It prevents many of the common ailments. It is an excellent remedy for coughs, colds, catarrh, grip, spring fever, tired-out feeling.

Sit down and think it over. See whether you can afford to go on half sick.

Some people prefer Peruna Tablets to the fluid Peruna.

SCHOOL NOTES.

[Submitted by Students.]

Gerald Oaks and Geraldine Heikes are quarantined with scarlet fever. Geraldine has been sick for a few days but the fact that scarlet fever had broken out in the school was not known until Saturday morning when a doctor was called for Gerald Oaks. The school building has been fumigated and the services of Dr. Maxwell have been secured to inspect conditions at school. The school board has decided to continue school pending further decision. The attendance Monday was less than half the enrollment.

The primary people are studying bugs and birds and the hand work consists of porquetry patterns.

The eighth grade county examinations were held at the school Thursday and Friday. Several people from the rural schools were in to take them.

R. E. Evans visited the school a few minutes Monday.

Anna Snyder, a former Dakota City teacher, now teaching in Omaha, was operated on at the Clarkson hospital last Wednesday for appendicitis. She is doing as well as can be expected at this time.

The high school expects soon to hold a program in honor of the Shakespeare Tercentenary. Posters have been made illustrating his works and we are attempting to do our share in knowing the famous dramatist.

Fate seems to be against the base ball boys. The trip was made to Newcastle and Ponca but on account of the rain no game was played. It was a rather expensive pleasure ride.

The debate with Homer resulted in a defeat for Dakota City Friday night. We have no regrets, for our girls did splendidly and the result was due, not to lack of preparation but rather to the question. This question is being debated throughout the state and in very few cases the negative side is the winning side. It is hard to defend the unpopular side even of so great a question. Our girls showed careful thought and study and we are justly proud of them.

Much credit is due Miss Shreiner for the work she has done with the girls. Aileen Stinson, Barbara Neiswanger and Gladys Biermann from the eleventh, tenth and ninth grades upheld our side of the question. We were unfortunate in having the negative side of the question and in having to speak away from home. Also the girls had had very little experience in such work. The girls have not given up and have determined to be good losers but to be the winners next time. We congratulate the Homer girls upon their work and Miss Snyder who aided them and hope that we may have other competitions of like nature. We have many physical contests between the schools but we are assured that their benefits are not commensurate with the contest of Friday evening. The loyal support of the people who accompanied the team is especially appreciated. We wish to thank those who so kindly lent their assistance in way of cars. There were upwards of fifty people from Dakota City at the debate.

Lutheran Church Notes

DAKOTA CITY-SALEM

The Easter program at Salem will begin promptly at 10:30 next Sunday. Do not forget the time. It will be worth your while to be present. No late comers will be permitted to enter only between songs because of the distraction. We know you will enjoy the day with us. The boys and girls have done a lot of good, hard work in the preparation of the exercises, and Mrs. O. W. Fisher should receive your thanks for her faithful work with them, especially from the parents of the young people who sing. We are sure you will express your appreciation to her for this.

You are planning for the offering extraordinary. You will rejoice to see what can be done, when we have made it. Many congregations make more than a $100 offering on special occasions. This is our special occasion. Many of us would buy a case for an auto tire without a whimper. How many of us really deny ourselves anything that we may have to give to the kingdom? As far as I have heard of it sounded like this: "My money is all gone any way by the end of the year and I might as well give some to the church." Self denial for the church is quite a stranger. It shouldn't be, so we will make such a thank offering Easter Sunday that will show our thankfulness. It is God's work and we are interested in it. God blesses those who labor for his kingdom. This is a good way to labor for his kingdom. A real live church is the best thing a community can have.

We are sorry not to have had our regular services at Emmanuel last Sunday, on account of the scarlet fever cases that developed in town the latter part of the week. Judging from the number of children out of the school room Monday, the omission of the services will find favor with the parents of the children who attend our Sunday school.

Our afternoon preaching hour is proving quite as successful as the evening hour. We will have an Easter egg hunt for the Sunday school next Sunday. Our church attendance grows by our being present, not by only wishing it well.

Communion services at Emmanuel next Sunday.

Looking Backward.

Sioux City Journal, April 13, 1896: An appropriation for ripping the Covington bank of the Missouri is expected any day now. It is supposed the work will be done under the supervision of the government engineers in Sioux City. It is imperative the bank be strengthened before the June rise.

Sioux City Journal, April 12, 1876: D. T. Hedges, of the firm of D. T. and C. E. Hedges, of this city, was yesterday awarded the contract for grading the Covington, Columbus and Black Hills railroad from Covington to Ponca, a distance of about thirty miles.

Sioux City Journal, April 15, 1896: The Mary E. Bennett was pulled out of her winter quarters yesterday and anchored off the Covington bank at a point opposite Water street. Capt. Talbot put a gang of boat carpenters at work overhauling and repairing her. The Capitola Butte carried across three boat-loads of lumber, which will be used in rebuilding the Mary. The two boats will be used the coming summer in river traffic. Capt. Talbot does not anticipate a rise of the river in June, and he said he would begin the first of next week replacing the pontoon bridge. He says the people of South Sioux City have been working to get a quiet town, and they surely will have it now with the new administration.

Ponca Journal, April 6, 1882: On Monday the notorious Jesse James was shot and killed by a member of his gang, a young man named Ford. The killing took place in St. Joseph, Mo.

Sioux City Journal, April 16, 1876: Travel across the river by ferryboat was brisk yesterday. The Undine was pretty well loaded down nearly every trip it made.

Sioux City Journal, April 16, 1896: William I. Hazelgrove and Miss Ella M. Bates, both of Dakota county, Neb., last night were united in marriage at the home of James Shirley, 605 Market street, Rev. J. F. Black officiating.

Sioux City Journal, April 6, 1896: The Missouri river did not fall any yesterday, although very little ice was running. It is expected to recede rapidly today. The owners of property along the river front at Covington have been having an exciting time the last three days. One strip of ground seven feet thick and twenty feet long fell in just above the approach to the pontoon bridge. The cavein almost carried a house with it, but ropes saved it. The house movers experienced difficulty in getting it back from the bank. Other houses are in danger and will have to be moved unless the bank is ripped before the June rise.

Sioux City Journal, April 7, 1896: South Sioux City is hopeful of securing some of the brewries and distilleries Sioux City lost by the defeat of the manufacturing bill in the Iowa legislature.

Sioux City Journal, April 7, 1876: The Covington, Columbus and Black Hills railroad bonds carried in Madison county, Neb., by a fair majority.

Why the Liquor Interests Will Lose

One more "victory" like the last one in Ohio and the liquor men will be lost in that state. It is a conservative old state, and the fact that last year the wets carried it by only 84,000 was considered remarkable.

This year the majority was cut down to 40,000. Of the eighty-eight counties in the state, seventy-four voted for prohibition majorities. Eliminating the city of Cincinnati the state would have gone dry by 20,000. The wet majority in Cleveland almost equals the entire wet majority in the state. The slum vote and the fraudulent count in the two or three large cities brought about the saloon victory. The dries will win next time.

In Nebraska we will not have the large slum vote to contend with, and fraudulent voting in this state is practically a thing of the past. The fraudulent count of 10,000 in Omaha in 1890 can not be duplicated or approached in the whole state. The trickery, if any, will be in small dribbles. Nebraska will go dry.
